From the Original Thunderbirds to the 2015 Reboot

The original Thunderbirds series, created by Gerry and Sylvia Anderson, debuted in 1965 and quickly became a cult classic. Using the innovative “Supermarionation” puppetry technique, the show introduced viewers to International Rescue, a secret organization that used six highly advanced vehicles—Thunderbirds 1 through 6—to save people around the globe. The 2015 reboot, produced by ITV Studios and DreamWorks Animation Television, keeps the core concept while modernizing the look and feel for contemporary audiences.
